

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Natoma Technologies, Inc. named to Amazon Web Services GovCloud Skill Program

Natoma Technologies, Inc., a public sector-focused information technology consulting firm and systems integrator is one of 10 consulting firms in the United States named to Amazon Web Services GovCloud Skill Program.

The AWS GovCloud (US) Skill Program identifies and showcases APN Consulting Partners with experience in architecting, operating, and managing workloads in AWS GovCloud (US) and APN Technology Partners with software products that are available in the AWS GovCloud (US) Region.

Natoma is currently under contract with a US government agency for professional services around migration from on-premise government owned, contractor operated (GOCO) datacenter to the AWS GovCloud region. Natoma's team is working to leverage the Federal Risk and Authorization Management Program (FEDRAMP) process to migrate an existing Authority to Operate (ATO) to accelerate deployment of the application.
